

Prophetic Word - the appointed time of reckoning

September 22 2020

My son hear a certain parable. There were five of my Chosen among a group of gatherers. As the day grew; the sun shined bright they all enjoyed its light, its warmth; its display in the heavens. However, evening set in and the gatherers decided to celebrate the beautiful day I created.

Unknown to them all was that my appointed time of reckoning arrived. All were speechless wondering how can this be? With a deep gasp of desperation one by one begged for more time to prepare but none will be granted.

The five Chosen bowed their head in shame knowing the Father's will they foolishly used their time. My son what will be they fate of those five? I tell you they will be appointed to the outer darkness where there will be weeping and gnashing of teeth.

My son What I say to you I say to all.

 Prepare for My soon return
