The LORD provides a Lamentation

O My people, O My creation, how I placed you with the Crown of Grace. O My son how I let you reign over the work of My hand; over the sons of men and the beasts of the field. I provided the display of the sun and the gentle light of the moon. I gave you all of this and if it was too little and not enough, I gave My son. Now judge between me and my people. Is there anything else I might have done?

Judgment now falls says the LORD
