

Prophetic Word January 17 2023

No words of blessings, peace and abundance

- ❑ Lights going out soon
- ❑ Turning of events ‘Now’. The turning of the war begins now as I strengthen my destroyers to destroy
- ❑ The Trumpet sounds are now.

My Father says daylight shall begin to diminish in its Glory. It begins to fade. Behold The Glory of the morning; and the rising of the sun as it begins its journey through the circuit of the earth. It shall no longer be the same as the gentle morning dew on the grass and upon the tender herb. This also shall also fade away says the Lord.

Seedtime and harvest shall be forgotten and the earth shall no longer uphold the seasons.

May Father says the stench and abomination of sin shall become tangible. The Lord says this people shall eat the fruit of their doings.

The Lord begins to justify the righteous and condemn the wicked. Will you now mock your God O man; Behold the sun in its going forth, as it fades in glory. The Lord says the sun shall no longer rejoice in its going forth as it fades in glory.

The Lord says the sun shall no longer rejoice in its going forth as a bridegroom that comes out of his chamber but shall be as a strong man which goes to war against his enemy.

PROPHECY son of man PROPHECY tell this people a saying

As Shadrack, Meshak and Abendego were thrown into the furnace so this people shall be afflicted.

The ears of this people will begin to tingle as you speak my words says the Lord. For they will be words of judgment and refining and not words of blessings and peace and abundance of the adornments in Babylon. Dance and rejoice, here comes a woe says the Lord. Shall I not prophesy the Word of the Lord?

Behold the canker worm O nation and people.

The righteous shall mourn.

How will you prepare to meet me at my coming O my people? Will you now say I am a God of love?

In March the Joy of the morning begins to fade as sorrow and sadness sets in. Behold my Prophets do not go into hiding says the Lord.
They stand in the market place and the open square and declare My Words and shout My warnings!

The Lord says teach this people this phrase

Look to me a God of Love; Look to him a god above.

Change your glory to your shame. Look to the destroyer and say his name. Find a home a place to stay. Conceal your sin and stay the same. Mock and curse jump and shout. Here it comes from heaven above

☐ smelting and refining
