Losses mount beginning in December

Hear the call of Trumpets; hear the sound of man; there in the desert places it will land. Though the south wind blows; the east wind scorches; from the Throne I send Lightning, Thunder and Hail; who can escape from my Father's hand; know for sure I judge this land.

Words of Knowledge

- Changes for the airline industry will begin soon
- The Lord sends rain

Stop and go. Run and hide; what is this by thy side;
For from the east and down the coast. I plan calamity from of old. Thorns and thistles briars and chaff who can say this at last.

☐ This is in my house; compromise says the LORD

Here is the sound of thunder now hear the Wisdom of men; For who can declare the beginning from the end; My Father speaks once my Father Speaks twice; now is the time I display my hand; here and now I judge this land.

Words of Wisdom

Take no thought for your life; sell what you have and give to the poor; seek the Kingdom of God and pursue holiness; provide for yourself treasures in heaven that cannot fail; and where no thief comes near; for where your treasure is there your heart will be also
