

Prophetic Word - Children of the morning dawn

September 28 2020

The children of the light are the children of the day. As the dawn of the morning are my children of the light.

Hear now that Wisdom may speak.

These people think they are all Children of the morning dawn; but the dawn of the morning soon shines bright as the sun reaches its full strength and glory and presents My Children to me says the LORD.

The cry of this people is not as if a man grieves over sin as a man grieves for only son but they shall when suddenly this people shall be visited with thunder, with earthquake and great noise, with storm and tempest and a devouring fire says the LORD of Hosts
